

‘Data protection and transnational cooperation in the post-Brexit era’

Thursday 16 December 2021 - 17:00-19:15 (GMT)

Hosting Organizations:

Centre of European Law, King’s College London
Southampton Law School
Cross-Border Data Protection Network

Venue: Online event \(Click here for Zoom – registration link\)

Programme:

17:00 – 17:10 Welcome

Sir Francis Jacobs QC, former Advocate General at the European Court of Justice; President of the Centre of European Law, King’s College London

17:10 – 18:00 High-level institutional panel

Moderator: Takis Tridimas, Chair of EU Law, co-Director of the Centre of European Law, King’s College London

Wojciech Wiewiórowski, European Data Protection Supervisor

Peter Hustinx, Non-executive director, Information Commissioner’s Office; former European Data Protection Supervisor
‘Regulatory cooperation across borders’

18:00 – 19:15 Academic panel

Moderator: Napoleon Xanthoulis, Lecturer in Law, University of Southampton

Sophie Stalla-Bourdillon, Senior Privacy Counsel & Legal Engineer at Immuta; Professor in Information Technology Law and Data Governance, University of Southampton

‘Unlocking the power of data without undermining the GDPR: myth or reality?’

Lilian Mitrou, Professor of Information/Data Protection Law, University of the Aegean-Greece

‘Regulating AI: EU answers to global questions’

Uta Kohl, Professor of Law, University of Southampton

‘Abolishing Art 22 GDPR and its requirement of human oversight for certain algorithmic decisions – An AI Haven or a Post-Brexit Folly?’

Concluding remarks