Normally all first progression reviews will be held face-to-face in Southampton or via Skype. If a sufficiently large cohort is located in one geographical region, University of Southampton staff may travel to a regional centre where a cohort of students can have their first progression review vivas.

Where this is not possible, alternative arrangements will be made, e.g. they may be conducted via Skype.

Confirmations/Upgrades/Transfers are normally conducted via Skype.

The final viva will take place in Southampton, however in exceptional circumstances alternative arrangements may be made with the approval of the Faculty Graduate School Directorate.

Each student will agree an individual arrangements document setting out the arrangements pertinent to themselves with their supervisor prior to commencing their studies.

In addition to the above:

For students commencing their candidature after 1 August 2016 the first progression review will take place between months eight and ten for the first attempt and before the end of month twelve for the second attempt if required.
